

Sponsored by the Government, Global Studies, and Sociology Departments

GUEST LECTURER
ANDREW DILTS

*Assistant Professor of Political Theory
Loyola Marymount University*

“To Look But Not See: Felon Voting Rights, Critical Prison Philosophy, and the Politics of Inclusion”

Monday, March 30
7:30 p.m. Hepburn 218

Andrew Dilts’s talk is based on his book Punishment and Inclusion: Race, Membership, and the Limits of American Liberalism (Fordham University Press, 2014), which gives a theoretical account of felon disenfranchisement as it has been practiced in the United States.